Description: This is a reality eerily like our own. This is a reality that somehow produces fantasy. This is a reality that life has physically changed.

This is a reality further complicated by fantasy.

Their fantasy is the Shift Noumena. Instead of monsters, they have the Nulgarrt. Instead of sacred and anicent lands, people watched their own homes warp into Terminsys Cities. And magic? siVis. And it's a lot more crazy, a lot more mindbending than what they're dealing with now.

We join five young women, trying their best to stay away from all of this, only for them to finally have their first experiences. They're gonna have to be forced to grow up, through these confusing and turbulent times. A weird and emotional journey, versus another heroic tale.
